DESTINATION: HAMBURG AIRPORT.

Big goals call for new ways: On 15 May 2017, the specialist for direct room humidification will take off one last time as DRAABE and land right at the Hamburg airport as Condair Systems.

As a traditional Hamburg-based company, DRAABE has been a successful member of the Swiss Condair Group since 2001. With extended sales responsibilities for Germany and Central Europe, DRAABE is now becoming part of the new European production and logistics centre of Condair.

In the 8,500 m² new building, optimal conditions are created for initially 130 employees in order to fulfil the growing tasks and capacities of the Condair Group in Europe.

DRAABE becomes Condair Systems and thereby underlines its leading role as a provider of all-in-one systems for direct room humidification.

With about 650 employees, the Condair Group is the world's leading manufacturer of commercial and industrial air humidifiers and systems.

At the airport in Hamburg, with perfect access to transport by air, water and land, the new location of Condair Systems will be very important in the future: The move will also bring together the existing Condair logistics and assembly plants of Switzerland, Great Britain and Denmark in the Hamburg metropolitan region.
